Summer Reading: Kindergarten to 1st Grade

Dear Parents,

It has been a pleasure watching your child grow in getting ready for First Grade. Your child will be asked to complete this packet over the summer to ensure continued progress next school year. It will be due on the first day of school to his/her first grade teacher.

This packet contains five worksheets required by your child's first grade teacher. Please use a different book for each worksheet. You may choose to make more copies for additional practice or use.

Directions for the reading worksheet:

The reading worksheet focuses on writing the title, author's name, and a sentence about the story. Please have your child write the title and author's name on the given lines. For the sentence, your child may tell you what to write or write it on their own. Lastly, your child will draw a picture from the story.

Here is a suggested routine for each book:

Day 1 Read the book with your child and let your child recall the main details and characters of the story. Children learn by talking about stories. Listen to their ideas.

Day 2 Re-read the book and talk with your child about the main character and what happened to him/her/it.

Day 3 Complete a reading worksheet.

Day 4 Discuss how the story could be changed or continued. This will challenge your child to make predictions and inferences.

Sincerely,

Kindergarten Teachers
